

WeirFoulds congratulates Partner Sandra Astolfo on receiving the 2019 OBA Construction and Infrastructure Law Award of Excellence

June 5, 2019

WeirFoulds is pleased to announce that Sandra Astolfo has been awarded the 2019 Construction and Infrastructure Law Award of Excellence by the Ontario Bar Association. She was presented with the award on Tuesday, June 4, 2019 at the OBA's Construction and Infrastructure Law Section's year-end dinner.

The Ontario Bar Association established an Award of Excellence to recognize exceptional contributions by individuals both to the law and the construction bar. The Award Selection Committee makes the final selection based on a number of criteria, including the candidate's excellence in construction law matters.

"Sandra is highly deserving of this award," says Glenn Ackerley, Chair of WeirFoulds' Construction Law Practice Group. "She exemplifies the construction lawyer who serves clients with remarkable commitment, treats fellow members of the profession with respect and integrity, and raises the bar for everyone through her leadership in education, mentoring and voluntary service. She does it all, and does it extremely well."

On top of Sandra's selection for the award, the firm is pleased to report that she had the highest number of nominations from her colleagues and peers, and is the youngest and first female recipient of this award.

The firm congratulates Sandra on this incredible achievement.
