

Raj Anand Speaks to Lawyered about the Latest Developments in Human Rights Law

February 24, 2016

Raj Anand discussed new developments in human rights law in an episode of Lawyered, an independent podcast series that takes a critical look at current Canadian legal issues.

Topics included:

1. Conflicts with religious rights,
2. Discrimination based on family status
3. Re-trying human rights claims

Raj is a senior civil litigation, administrative and human rights lawyer and a bencher of the Law Society of Upper Canada. He is a former Chief Commissioner of the Ontario Human Rights Commission and currently acts for complainants and respondents in internal investigations and Ontario and federal applications.
