By Caroline Abela, Krista Chaytor,

This article appeared in the second edition of Global Legal Insights Litigation & Dispute Resolution; published by Global Legal Group Ltd, London.

In the chapter on Canada, Caroline Abela, Krista Chaytor & Marie-Andre Vermette discuss Litigation and Dispute Resolution.

The cornerstone of the Canadian legal system is based on two principles: (1) the rule of law; and (2) the independence of the judiciary. The rule of law provides that everyone is subject to the law and no one is above the law. The preservation of such a principle is ensured by the independence of the judiciary, which dates back 300 years.
