

WeirFoulds Boosts Its Information Technology and Intellectual Property Practices Welcoming James Kosa, Lisa Danay and Thomas Wong

April 17, 2018

By James G. Kosa, Lisa Danay Wallace, Thomas Wong

WeirFoulds is pleased to announce that James Kosa, Lisa Danay and Thomas Wong have joined the firm in the Information Technology and Intellectual Property Group.

Commenting on the announcement, Wayne Egan, Managing Partner, WeirFoulds LLP said: "The addition of James, Lisa and Thomas is a significant boost to our IT & IP practice. They reinforce our ability to service our clients with the highest level of expertise and service in these areas."

James's particular areas of expertise include the protection and exploitation of computer and software technology, IT and IP licensing, and dispute resolution. He regularly advises on software and systems licensing, and outsourcing and development agreements, and assists clients with privacy, open source, and cloud computing issues as well.

Lisa Danay has a practice that focuses on high tech and internet based companies. She also acts for companies from all industries assisting them with their privacy and other compliance needs.

Thomas Wong's practice focuses on e-commerce, cloud computing, hosting services, outsourcing and telecommunications and internet services.

For his part, James remarked, "I am delighted to be joining the excellent team of lawyers at WeirFoulds. The firm's commitment to exceptional client service is a tremendous fit for my practice. I look forward to continuing to provide our clients with creative, practical and timely advice at our new home."

James was elected as President of the Canadian Technology Law Association (CAN-TECH) in October 2017. He is also Treasurer of the Canadian Bar Association (CBA), Intellectual Property Section, Past Chair of the Ontario Bar Association (OBA), Information Technology and E-Commerce Section, and a member of the Institute of Electrical and Electronics Engineers (IEEE), Intellectual Property Institute of Canada (IPIC), Canadian IT Law Association (IT.CAN), International Technology Law Association (ITECHLAW), Toronto Computer Lawyers' Group (TCLG), and the Toronto Intellectual Property Group (TIPG).
