Emma is a Partner in the firm's Commercial Litigation Practice Group.

Her practice includes media and defamation and aviation law, as well as commercial and general civil litigation.

Emma has appeared before all levels of court in Ontario, as well as the Federal Court of Canada. She is experienced in drafting pleadings, affidavits, and facta, conducting complex research, and advising clients on novel matters.

Emma also practises in the areas of information technology and intellectual property law with a focus on high tech and Internet-based companies. She acts for companies from all industries in order to assist them when they are customers or providers of technology, and with their privacy and other compliance needs.

Prior to joining WeirFoulds, Emma gained experience at both a boutique litigation firm and a national full-service firm in Toronto.

Emma has also worked as an Associate Producer in local and national current affairs at the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation.
